

Giraffic for Microsoft IIS

Problem:

You would like to provide attractive-looking business graphics to your web application but your data is changing too rapidly to keep those graphics updated manually. If there were a program that would do this it would probably be too expensive or would not scale well.

Solution:

Giraffic will dynamically produce web graphics from your XML-formatted data. Easily make changes to the XML input file and immediately see the results in the graphics created. Schedule your XML-creating program to run periodically and Giraffic will do the rest, producing a variety of 2D/3D business graphics for your web audience.
